Meet Bev Andrews

I've been working in change management for almost 20 years, with projects across many organisations and industries.

I'm driven by the desire to make a difference in the change environment by looking at the entire impact of change on an organisation. I guide employees through the journey of transformation by focusing on engagement and capability development.

I developed the ASPIRE Change Management Framework as a way to guide organisational transformation while being adaptive and responsive to both each employees capability and the organisation's capacity for change.
